Bibliography

Purpose
This document lists articles and other resources you might find useful as you make plans to use videos in teaching and learning. Accessing articles may require a journal subscription. If you are on the Duke network (directly or through Duke’s VPN), you will be able to access subscriptions through the Duke Library. If you are at a different institution, check with your library for access information. If you know of articles, Web sites, tools, or other resources to add, please send them to the ViTaL mailing list (if you are a member of the list) or use our feedback form to submit suggestions.

Articles

Web Sites to Explore

Tools

“Videoscribe.” Animate drawings and text to make them look like they’re being hand-drawn. http://www.videoscribe.co/